

Design Developer

LET US INTRODUCE OURSELVES

ICHI is an award-winning creative agency producing standout campaigns for some of the world's biggest, most loved entertainment brands.

We believe that great creative is always focused, feels effortless, and doesn't happen by accident. This means, regardless of project size, our approach is strategically focused and driven by a core team of specialists working from pitch to completion.

We're always on the lookout for talented, strategically-minded, sleeves-rolled-up creatives to join the squad. If this sounds like you, read on...

YOUR ROLE AT ICHI

As an ICHI Design Developer, you will help define and create all digital output for the agency, from website/microsite development to online advertising and app development.

An integral member of the creative department, you will assist with research, ideation, and execution of digital assets, working closely with the Senior Designer and Creative Directors (as well as Motion, Design, and Production departments) to develop creative that delivers on strategy and meets client objectives.

Working within the visually diverse entertainment sector requires expert ability, versatility, and a keen awareness of market trends and digital innovation. These attributes are combined with outstanding creativity and acute attention to detail to ensure quality and consistency across all projects.

As part of the ICHI team, you'll have the opportunity to build your skills within a supportive, collaborative environment. There are no lanes to swim in, and cross-disciplinary working is encouraged. You are highly motivated with fantastic interpersonal skills and love the challenge of innovating within the fast-paced digital industry.

THE NUTS AND BOLTS

- Assist with creative conceptualisation of client campaigns, and deliverables across design and digital.
- Ensure ICHI's high standard of work is executed with the day-to-day support of the Senior Designer.

- Use existing knowledge of creative trends to inform decision making when creating designs for digital, yet keeping in mind the overall creative direction of the asset to maintain consistency throughout the campaign.
- Receive and respond to briefs, ensuring the development of innovative and compelling creative concepts that meet the client requirements.
- Be continuously up to date with emerging softwares / trends / communication channels where relevant to the company and our clients.
- Be able to execute creative design across a multiple number of digital mediums, covering website/microsite development, online advertising and app development.
- Fluent in digital languages such as JavaScript, CSS and HTML.
- Have a clear and genuine knowledge of technology and digital tools and can demonstrate a full understanding of the structure of web, app and other digital projects.
- Communicate effectively with senior team members in order to receive feedback, allowing for efficient and effective project development - and be able to explain technical jargon to peers and clients
- Communicate and present concepts and information in a concise and professional manner whether in a verbal, written or visual context.
- Develop a keen eye for detail throughout all areas of work and when finishing and finalising assets and files for client delivery.
- Effectively time manage yourself and manage projects which have tight deadlines by communicating with the correct members of staff and seeking advice from senior creatives on best practise.
- Work alongside the Senior Designer and all internal departments to ensure high quality, effective output.
- Report back at regular intervals on progress of projects to the Senior Designer.
- Carrying out research and collating information to devise all creative from a strategic and brand aligned perspective.
- Adhere to existing brand style guidelines within all projects.
- Ensure all completed projects are consolidated and archived in the appropriate place.
- Develop a strong understanding of the ICHI brand and also the brands/clients we work with in order to produce effective creative.
- Contribute to and help drive the creative identity and vision of the company.
- Effectively time manage yourself and maintain hitting deadlines.

SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

- 3+ years of working in an agency/production/marketing environment in a design digital role

- Have a comprehensive knowledge of technology and digital tools, and can demonstrate a full understanding of the structure of web, app, and other digital projects
- A strong portfolio (work within the entertainment/youth brand sector is a bonus)
- A meticulous approach to creating digital assets, with the ability to stay on brief and effectively respond to client objectives
- Excellent communication skills (both spoken and written)
- Self-motivated with strong time management skills
- Be up to date with emerging trends/communication channels
- Knowledge of Office and Google suite applications with general computer efficiency
- The right to work in the UK

WHAT'S ON OFFER

- Competitive salary (with perks) based-on-experience
- Flexible, hybrid home/office working
- Company pension scheme
- BUPA healthcare
- Income protection cover
- Life assurance
- Employee assistance programme (EAP)
- Team social events
- Summer hours
- Training
- Friendly working environment
- And much, much more.

SUBMISSION

- 1st Round: email submission to jobs@ichi-worldwide.com
 - CV
 - Cover Letter - bit more about yourself, why you would like to work at ICHI
 - Portfolio - showcasing the work completed under clients you have secured
- 2nd Round: video interview with Creative Director

- 3rd Round: face-to-face interview with Creative Director and Executive Creative Director (subject to COVID 19, if not possible then video interview)
- 4th Round: face-to-face intro meeting with Studio Head and Managing Director (subject to COVID 19, if not possible then video interview)